7th Edition - Spring/Summer 2014

May 3rd Sharon Spring Fling! Celebrate Spring in Beautiful Downtown Sharon!

Spring Fling Flower Giveaway! Spring is in the air! With 15+ new stores in downtown, Sharon is spiffing up for spring and giving away spring flowers. Participating Greater Sharon Associates merchants will decorate their entrance with planters and hanging baskets. Shoppers can register from 10 a.m. – 5 p.m. in each store to win, and, at the close of business, each shopkeeper will give the flowers to one lucky winner. Dozens of people will go home with fresh flowers for spring. Come shop LOCAL and see the fresh new faces and shops of Beautiful Downtown Sharon! Enjoy refreshments at many of the local shops!

I Scream, You Scream, We All Scream for Ice Cream! Penn State Shenango will hold a Rummage Sale in McDowell Hall from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. and will sell Penn State Berkey Creamery Ice Cream from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The campus will also host an Open House at the Lartz Memorial Library where the community may sign up for a Community Library card with proof of PA residency.

Celebrate Spring with Maifest! The Apollo Maennerchor Club is hosting a Maifest celebration in the club's Festhalle. This family-friendly event will showcase the heritage and traditions of the Sharon community. There will be German music, beer, and food, as well as dancing around the Maibaum and a performance by the Apollo Maennerchor singers. Maifest is the traditional German celebration of the arrival of spring. Maifest is still celebrated throughout Germany with the Maibaum (Maypole) decorated to show off the history and crafts of the town. Maifest is one of mankind's oldest traditions, the celebration of nature's bright reawakening after winter's cold darkness. For more information, call the Apollo Maennerchor Club at 724-308-6599.

Play in a Day Imagine a collection of original 10-minute plays that are written, cast, rehearsed and performed all in 24 hours! That's what will be happening at the James E. Winner Jr. Arts and Culture Center. Be amazed and surprised at the results, performed live at 7:30 pm.

About Hunger & Resilience In Michael Nye's exhibition About Hunger & Resilience, so much comes to light. The 50 portraits and audio stories reveal the courage and fragility of those individuals who have experienced hunger. In simple, eloquent detail, these voices and images draw you closer into their lives. For the past four and a half years, Michael has been listening and asking questions about hunger. Why does it happen? What can we learn from them? Stories have a way of illuminating issues with an elemental and engaging power. These diverse audio narratives take us underneath complicated issues where empathy and understanding begin. On display at the James E. Winner Jr. Arts and Culutre Center from 10 a.m. – 6 p.m. FREE.

Show your Sharon Pride! The Sharon Beautification Commission's annual city-wide spring "Sharon Pride" clean-up! Hundreds of volunteers will come out, divide and conquer to beautify our great city. Meet up with friends and neighbors at 9 a.m. at Musser School, Hadley School, Sacred Heart School or Thornton Hall parking lot.

Henry Ekker's Autograph Sports Collection A must see for sports fans. An extensive collection of signed memorabilia from all aspects of the sports world – on view at the Community Library of the Shenango Valley.

WaterFire Sharon Announces Dates and Themes for 2014

WATERFIRE
PENNSYLVANIA

Plans are underway for the second season of WaterFire Sharon. The three events in the 2013 inaugural season brought over 70,000 visitors to Beautiful Downtown Sharon. A team of artists helped create unique themes for each event, so that no, two "WaterFires" will ever be the same, and visitors can expect a different mix of entertainment, vendors and artists at each one. The themes were chosen by the artisan committee who reviewed dozens of suggested themes and chose these due to the artistic representation and interpretation they each offered.

July 19, "Elements" Whether referring to the elements of art (line, shape, form, space, texture, value and color), or any category that makes up life, the "Elements" theme celebrates not only the elements that create water and fire, but all fine and performing arts, the artists who create them, and the visitors who appreciate them.

August 23, "Origins" takes us back to our beginnings. We honor our origins by passing traditions, knowledge, and stories down to the next generations. The story of origins is often told in both performing and fine arts. "WaterFire" recognizes the use of water and fire as far back as imaginable, and celebrates our origins as individuals and as a community. "Origins" will be a virtual "Homecoming" as artists and performers who hail from the region are invited back "home" to participate.

September 27, "Motion" is in recognition of our lives and the world around us. A part of life, perceived or not, we are always moving. Just as the earth we're walking on is moving, art is often an expression of motion. Whether the artist uses motion in telling the story of life or situation progression, or in dance, it's all motion. Through a specific medium or song, a story unfolds.

"WaterFire Sharon" highlights the motion of the river and the volunteers who glide down the river to a dark backdrop, tending to the blazing fires. The fire performers twirl fire in directions and speeds that leave us mesmerized. Visitors move through the streets as artists create.

WaterFire Volunteers always needed!

Thank you to all who participated in the Small Business Saturday Holiday Extravaganza!

“Holiday Extravaganza” was a grand success in Beautiful Downtown Sharon! Thousands came out over the course of “Small Business Saturday” to enjoy shopping in the many fabulous new boutiques, while enjoying the caroling and dancers, and trolley and horse drawn sleigh rides. The “Night of Lights” festivities included the fantastic arrival of Santa escorted by Shenango Valley Ballet dancers and fireworks.

Countless thanks to those who supported the Holiday Extravaganza financially or through hours of volunteerism. Special thanks to our church, high school and dance groups for entertaining the crowds, and to the Shenango Valley Professional, Beautification Commission volunteers, Youth Advocacy Program volunteers, the Carpenters Union, the fabulous City of Sharon road crew, police and fire departments, and electricians, for helping make our city exceptional this holiday season!

Over $4000 in prizes were given away during the annual DownTown ShopAround. Participating merchants were:

Recycling Works

Did you know that every aluminum can or plastic bottle that you recycle not only helps the environment but also helps the City of Sharon too? Each year the total tonnage of materials collected and recycled is reported to the state. The city receives grant funding back from the state and the amount of the grant is based on the tonnage collected. The more material that gets reported, the bigger the financial incentive to the city.

The state requires that any municipality with over 2,000 residents maintain a recycling program. The city's program is operated by Waste Management and the material is collected on the same day that your trash is collected. If you are a new resident, the city can provide you with a recycling container. Replacement containers are $11.35, which is the price the city pays for the containers.

We Need You! If you've read 16146 to this point, you can see that Sharon is hopping with great events and opportunities! All our events and activities rely on the dedication and hard work of our community. More than 750 volunteers made WaterFire a success. Greater Sharon Associates' Small Business Saturday and Night of Lights engaged dozens of merchants, numerous churches, student groups and charitable organizations. Sharon's Beautification Committee has hundreds of volunteers that regularly clean up and add special touches throughout the city. Volunteers on the Community and Economic Development Commission put together this newsletter, administer a revolving small business loan program, and have revised the city's website. The Sharon Arts Commission is looking at enhancing public art downtown. These are only some of the city's current volunteer opportunities. What time, talent and skill could you share with your community? Whether you have a particular passion or just a free afternoon, contact Lori at the City Building (724-983-3229), and we'll help you make a difference for the city of Sharon.

Sharon Regional completes sale to CHS

Sharon Regional Health System recently completed the sale of its assets to a subsidiary of Community Health Systems, Inc. (CHS). Community Health Systems, Inc. is one of the largest publicly-traded hospital companies in the United States and a leading operator of general acute care hospitals in communities across the country. Through its subsidiaries, the company currently owns, leases, or operates more than 200 hospitals in 29 states with an aggregate of approximately 31,000 licensed beds. The company's headquarters are located in Franklin, Tennessee, a suburb of Nashville.

This is exciting news for the City of Sharon and surrounding communities as it not only guarantees economic stability for the community but also preserves choice for patients, physicians, and employers. CHS-affiliated hospitals are committed to delivering quality care and exceeding patients' expectations about their hospital experiences. Through the CHS system of hospitals, Sharon Regional will have the opportunity to share best practices with other affiliated hospitals and to access vast resources that support nursing, quality, and patient safety. In addition, area communities will benefit from tax revenues from Sharon Regional now being a for-profit facility.

Some of the additional benefits the community will see are a commitment to invest a minimum of $75 million in Sharon Regional in facilities, services, and medical technology over the next five years; a continuation and growth of essential services (including medical/surgical, critical care, open heart and vascular surgery, emergency services, and obstetrics); maintaining Sharon Regional's current medical staff with strong efforts to recruit new physicians to the community; continuation of charity care policies consistent with those currently in place; a local advisory board comprised of members of Sharon Regional's medical staff and local community leaders; and continued operation of the School of Nursing and School of Radiography.

This is a very positive event for the City of Sharon and neighboring communities. We congratulate Sharon Regional in their selection of CHS to insure the long-term success of the Health System.

Public Parking Garage OPEN!

The Sharon parking garage is now open, after being closed for $587,000 in state-funded structural and lighting repairs. The garage was closed at the end of last year while Carl Walker Construction of Pittsburgh and Bechtel Controls of Ohio made much needed improvements. The garage is opened Monday through Friday, from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m., and on weekends for special events. The city is finally on track to realize some economic benefit from the garage, after many decades of underutilization. The City of Sharon and Primary Health Network are working on the final details of a lease, whereby the healthcare provider will assume responsibility for the structure, and continue the improvements that the city initiated. Under the terms of the deal, the garage would still be open to the public, but it would become part of the footprint of Primary Health's planned $22 million medical building. "The garage in downtown was a major factor in Primary Health's decision to construct their building in Sharon. For the first time in a long time, the city can look at the garage as a real asset and we are pleased to enter into a lease with Primary Health so that the garage can be put into a more productive use," said City Manager Scott Andrejchak.

Downtown Revitalization Team

This group, spear-headed by the Sharon Community and Economic Development Commission, acts as a "think tank" and communications group for creative and efficient ways to move Sharon forward, incorporating representatives from many businesses, social/service groups, charities, city council and staff. The group has been gleaning "best-practices" ideas from a series of consulting videos entitled "20 Ingredients for an Outstanding Downtown." In addition, the Sharon Strategic Plan and the Route 62 Corridor Study have served as goals and benchmarks for progress in the city.

Penn State Shenango gets New Campus Director

Dr. Jo Anne Carrick, Penn State Shenango's new campus director, talks candidly about the importance of collaboration between the Shenango campus and the City of Sharon and why she is excited to be back.

Since Carrick's arrival, she has been busy meeting with staff, faculty and board members, as well as getting out in the community. As a native of New Castle, Carrick understands the needs and people of western PA and certainly the struggles of those wanting higher education at a reasonable cost.

"Speaking on behalf of the Shenango campus community, we see ourselves as partners with the City of Sharon and this region providing the residents with an opportunity to receive the best education possible from a Big Ten University," said Carrick. "This is a great time to be part of the City of Sharon, and we look forward to working collaboratively on its revitalization."

Carrick, who received her RN diploma in nursing from St. Francis Hospital, took her first job at Sharon Regional Hospital. It was during this time that she decided to take a course at Penn State Shenango and further her nursing career. Carrick received both her bachelor's and master's degrees in nursing. She began teaching for Penn State at the Beaver campus and then moved to the Shenango campus in 1995. In 2006, she worked with the leadership of Penn State Erie, The Behrend College to open their Nursing program and became the coordinator of the Nursing program that following year. Carrick earned her doctoral degree in administration and leadership studies in higher education from Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

"The 11 years I spent at the Shenango campus were an important part of my life – it was a time I grew both personally and professionally," Carrick said. "The people at Shenango celebrated both my ups and downs – they were like family. When the opportunity arose to return to this campus, I felt compelled to come back. With all of the challenges higher education is facing today, I wanted to bring my 30 years experience in the health field and my expertise in leadership and administration back to this campus, where, in many ways, it all began for me."

PHN EMBARKS ON 30TH YEAR OF EMBRACING EXCELLENCE IN HEALTHCARE

In 2014, The Primary Health Network (PHN) celebrates its thirtieth year of providing quality, affordable healthcare to the residents of the Shenango Valley. PHN began in 1984 as one small community health center on Darr Avenue in Farrell, PA and it has grown to include over 32 service facilities throughout 12 counties in Pennsylvania and northeastern Ohio.

PHN continues to grow in 2014 by expanding into Lewistown, PA and building a brand new, state of the art medical multiservice facility in Punxsutawney, PA. There are plans to break ground later in the year on a similar multiservice facility in downtown Sharon, PA. These new multiservice centers work with the local communities to develop and implement a new model of healthcare where patients can address all of their medical, dental and behavioral health needs at one location.

At PHN we strive to assist our patients toward a fuller, healthier lifestyle. That is why we offer a variety of patient programs, health education, free pregnancy tests and blood pressure screenings at all medical sites. Through PHN's Charitable Foundation, we also provide free van transportation for Beaver, Lawrence and Mercer County residents to all medical appointments.

One of our most beneficial patient programs is our Sliding-Fee Scale. It is offered to all income eligible uninsured or under-insured patients based on annual household income. It works in conjunction with our federally funded 340B Prescription Program that allows PHN to offer discounted drug pricing on all medications by partnering up with numerous local pharmacies. In addition to the Sliding-Fee Scale, we gladly process Medical Assistance, Medicare, and most insurances.

PHN proudly serves the Shenango Valley by providing medical, dental, behavioral health and numerous subspecialty services. We stand ready to meet the healthcare needs of all of the Shenango Valley residents and will continue to provide quality, affordable healthcare. For more information, call 724-342-3002 or visit www.primary-health.net.
